Serving the Greater
Kansas City Metro Area

Rev. Sept. 2010

Preparedness Through Partnership

Partnership for Emergency Planning, PEP, is a partnership of private businesses and public sector service agencies. It is a public/private partnership of individuals who come together to share and become better prepared to respond to an emergency and recover from a disaster.

PEP was founded in 1989 as a non-profit organization dedicated to emergency planning issues in the metropolitan Kansas City area. Membership has expanded over the past years and now includes hospitals, school districts, municipalities, federal, state and local emergency management associations, and some of the largest corporations in Missouri and Kansas. Membership representation now reaches out from the core of Kansas City to other outlying regions.

PEP maintains a goal to facilitate the exchange of information between the private and public sectors and promote community-wide awareness of the importance of emergency planning and disaster recovery.

Purpose & Objectives

PEP Primary Focus Areas

- ▶ The protection of employees and assets;
- ▶ Maintaining business continuity through mitigation, crisis management and recovery following a disaster.

PEP Objectives

- ▶ Facilitate resources for members to:
 - Collaborate with others in the disaster/emergency planning process;
 - Present information concerning public service agencies and recovery interactions; and
 - Share resources and lend assistance between agencies and companies.
- ▶ Assist in the emergency /disaster planning process through education and communication of critical information.
- ▶ Promote a broader understanding and awareness of the need for and value of advanced planning.
- ▶ Conduct educational seminars, conferences and meetings.
- ▶ Promote programs and activities that foster cooperation between private companies and public sector agencies.

Membership Benefits

- ▶ Educational meetings hosted FREE or at a nominal fee to the members. Each meeting/program will include a topic relevant to the objectives of the organization.
- ▶ www.pepkc.org – Comprehensive web site offering emergency preparedness information for member research and education.
- ▶ Newsletters with informative current topics, pertinent resources and community event listings.
- ▶ Opportunity to become involved by serving on a board position or other committee appointment.
- ▶ Other opportunities as the organization continues to grow and meet the needs of our diverse membership.

Membership

Compared to most professional organizations, membership in PEP is refreshingly affordable. Join online at www.pepkc.org. Corporate (up to five employees for just one fee) or Individual Membership Fee is:

ONLY $50.00/Year
